raled-An Appeal to the Supremo

Court-Painful Accidents. [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispa tch.] Perensuuno, Va., June 12.-Judge B. A. Hancock to-day delivered his opinion in the case of Carleton H. Marks, who was lately convicted in the County Court of Greenesville for the killing of N. M. Bain, and who appealed to the Circuit Court for a new trial. The petitioner's appeal raised six objections to the finding of the County Court, which were overruled in detail, as follows:

he may like the breaking. 1. "That the Court erred in refusing to allow the father of the accused to remain in court during the trial, and requiring him to be excluded with the other witnesses." NOT AN ERROR.

On this point the Court held that the pr isoner was a man of full age, and had had ample opportunity to prepare for his defence, having been out on hall for eight months prior to tha trial. It was not error, therefore, to exclude his father. his father.

2. "That the Court erred in refusing to require the Commonwealth to introduce and examine,
on its own behalf all the witnesses of the homi-

NOT PREJUDICED.

On this point the Court held that the trial court should have called all of the witnesses of the homleide who had not been introduced and examined by the Commonwealth's Attorney when its attention was called to the fact that there was such other witnesses. The Court could not compel the Commonwealth to introduce and examine them, but should have allowed either party to examine, cross-examine, and impeach the witnesses if so advised. The Court held, however, that inasmuch as these witnesses had been introduced and examined by the prisoner at the first trial, and were also introduced and examined by him at this trial, and had all testified strongly in his favor, the failure of the Court to call these witnesses did not prejudice the prisoner, and is not sufficient ground to set aside the verdict.

3, "That the Court erred in allowing the coun-sel who assisted the Commonwealth's Attorney to make the closing argument in the case." THE CLOSING AEGUMENT.

On this point the Court held that counsel employed by the family of the deceased may assist the attorney presecuting for the State, and with the consent of the Commonwealth's Attorney and the concurrence of the Court may make the cleaning argument in the case.

4. "That the verdick was defective in that it falled to find whether the prisoner was guilty of murder in the first or second degree as required by the statute; and also because the verdict was considered.

the statute; and also because the verdict ed to say whether he was guilty of murder or usianghter." NOT NECESSARY.

NOT NECESSARY.

On this point the Court held that it is not necessary where there has been a conviction of murder in the second degree (which has been set aside on appeal) that in a second trial on the same indictment the verdict shall distinguish between murder in the first and second degree—the statute (Code, sections 40-41) not applying in such cases; the former verdict having acquitted him of murder in the first degree.

5. "That the Court erred in allowing the Commonwealth to introduce testimony to impeach a witness introduced by the defence on an alleged impaterial matter brought out on cross-examiess introduced by the defence on an alleged aterial matter brought out on cross-exami and evidence."

On this point the Court held that the verdict was not so clearly contrary to the evidence as to justify the Court in setting it aside.

Judge Hancock's opinion enlarged in detail apon the exceptions, and showed great care in sreparation. sel for Marks gave notice of an appeal to OFFICERS ELECTED.

At the annual meeting of Powhatan Starke Ledge, No. 124, of Masons, held last night, the following officers were elected: W. B. Morriss, worshipful master; Thomas F. Knock, senior warden; K. L. Campbell, Junor warden; K. J. Campbell, Junor warden; L. Marks, secretary; William H. Scott, treasurer; John B. Bland, senior deacon; James Mairhead, junior deacon. The mill on this property is a three-story brick building, with slate roof, and with James-river granite foundation. It grinds wheat, corn, and plaster, using turbine wheels, and is fitted with other machinery of improved patterns. The water-power with which the mill is run is on the property.
